

BEFORE DECIDING ON YOUR BATH ROOM, DON'T FAIL TO EXAMINE THESE GOODS.

Ladies are especially invited to visit the above Show Rooms and view our artistic designs of Bath and Kitchen Sanitary Appliances. HENRY McSHANE MFG. CO., 52 to 60 Elm St. F. W. WEBB, Manager Boston Branch.

THIS MORNING'S NEWS.

FIRST PAGE. Victorious athletes who participated in the Olympic games given a royal welcome upon their return to Boston. Accident at Park Square station, car overturned, two men killed and several injured.

Indiana declares for McKinley. Will of late John Stetson, Jr., filed with register of probate of Suffolk county.

SECOND PAGE. The Senate votes, 51 to 6, to investigate the bond issues of the present administration. Compromise on the admission of women delegates at session of Methodist general conference in Cleveland, O.

W. L. Douglas Hand Sewed Shoes. BEST IN THE WORLD. ONE PRICE $3.00 ONE QUALITY.

Real worth FIVE DOLLARS, in comparison with other makes. 100 Styles and Widths. CALF, PATENT CALF, RUSSIA CALF, VICI KID.

To Providence Readers. Providence Readers Who Wish the Morning, Evening, or Sunday Edition.

THE Boston Herald. Delivered at their residences can have the same by notifying the.

R. I. NEWS CO., 141 Westminster Street, Who will have it supplied by your nearest newsdealer.

SPECIAL CARD YES, IT'S SO!

THE ROCHESTER BREWING CO., NEW ENGLAND BRANCH, 295-305 A St.

Artificial Eyes Fitted, $4.00. REMOVAL. JOHN MILLER & CO., Importers and Wine Merchants, REMOVED FROM 298 & 300 Hanover St.

Not Bow Legs. but a BOW FOOT is the distinguishing characteristic of that fine brass and enameled iron bed which the remarkable price of $5.98 has been put by H. R. PLIMPTON & CO., 107 1/2 Washington St., near Dover.

INDIANA IS FOR McKINLEY. DOCUMENT FILED

Republican Convention Put Him in the State Platform.

EX-PRESIDENT HARRISON FAILED TO MAKE A SPEECH. Protection, Reciprocity and Sound Money Declared for—Michigan Republicans Also Went Wild Over the Champion of Protection—New Jersey Democrats Resolved in Favor of Gold but Not Greenbacks.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 7, 1896. The Republicans of Indiana have joined the procession that proposes to nominate William McKinley for President by acclamation. Gen. Harrison could have saved the day, but he preferred to stay at home and remain silent.

THE PLATFORM. It Declares Chiefly for Protection, Sound Money and William McKinley. The platform adopted was as follows: It has been 40 years since the Republican party was born. It was the child of conscience. It grew and became great in deed and achievement through the inspiration that comes from a true and loyal belief in the principles of liberty and justice and equal opportunity for all.

It was not a "glorious victory" for the McKinley people. The movements of the convention just before the adoption of the resolution indicated plainly that if any one had taken up the fight against instructions he would have received the support of nearly half the delegates.

It is the first time in the quarter of a century that Benjamin Harrison, when at home, did not attend the state convention of his party and raise his voice in the interest of his co-workers.

The resolution instructing the delegates came before the convention with the unanimous endorsement of the committee on resolutions. It was the last resolution in the platform, when A. O. Marsh, the chairman of the committee on resolutions, reached the name of McKinley, the friends of the champion of protection made their first real demonstration of the day.

Probably half the delegates sprang to their feet and shouted for a half minute. When the McKinley people had ended their enthusiasm, the opposition made a demonstration which almost, if not quite, equalled that of the other side.

It was fully five minutes before quiet was restored, and Chairman Marsh was able to utter the words that contained the meat of the resolution: "And the delegates-at-large selected by this convention are instructed to vote for William McKinley at St. Louis."

This was a signal for another demonstration by the McKinley enthusiasts; at no time were more than half the delegates on their feet. As soon as the McKinley people were through, the friends of Gen. Harrison again called loudly for him. It was evident that the sentiment of the convention was about evenly divided.

After the decorators had finished their work in the hall last night some one representing the Harrison sentiment bribed the janitor and made his way to the left, where he placed a machine that was to be used in unrolling in front of the stage a portrait of the former President.

While the "Harrison stalwarts" were making their final demand, then, and before the chairman of the convention put the question, the platform was being rolled out. The McKinley people, who were in the majority, were not to be outdone.

After the decorators had finished their work in the hall last night some one representing the Harrison sentiment bribed the janitor and made his way to the left, where he placed a machine that was to be used in unrolling in front of the stage a portrait of the former President.

While the "Harrison stalwarts" were making their final demand, then, and before the chairman of the convention put the question, the platform was being rolled out. The McKinley people, who were in the majority, were not to be outdone.

After the decorators had finished their work in the hall last night some one representing the Harrison sentiment bribed the janitor and made his way to the left, where he placed a machine that was to be used in unrolling in front of the stage a portrait of the former President.

While the "Harrison stalwarts" were making their final demand, then, and before the chairman of the convention put the question, the platform was being rolled out. The McKinley people, who were in the majority, were not to be outdone.

After the decorators had finished their work in the hall last night some one representing the Harrison sentiment bribed the janitor and made his way to the left, where he placed a machine that was to be used in unrolling in front of the stage a portrait of the former President.

While the "Harrison stalwarts" were making their final demand, then, and before the chairman of the convention put the question, the platform was being rolled out. The McKinley people, who were in the majority, were not to be outdone.

After the decorators had finished their work in the hall last night some one representing the Harrison sentiment bribed the janitor and made his way to the left, where he placed a machine that was to be used in unrolling in front of the stage a portrait of the former President.

While the "Harrison stalwarts" were making their final demand, then, and before the chairman of the convention put the question, the platform was being rolled out. The McKinley people, who were in the majority, were not to be outdone.

WILL OF JOHN STETSON, JR., Presented for Probate. Turned Over to Register by Dr. O. G. Cilley.

Entire Estate Bequeathed to His Wife, Katherine.

Unwarranted Talk Anent the Legal Instrument.

Dr. O. G. Cilley, of Boston, has been called to the office of the register of probate of Suffolk county to probate the will of late John Stetson, Jr., which was presented for probate yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Cilley, who is a well known Boston physician, Dr. O. G. Cilley, entered the court house in Pemberton square, at the desk upon which the will of late John Stetson, Jr., was presented for probate yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Cilley, who is a well known Boston physician, Dr. O. G. Cilley, entered the court house in Pemberton square, at the desk upon which the will of late John Stetson, Jr., was presented for probate yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Cilley, who is a well known Boston physician, Dr. O. G. Cilley, entered the court house in Pemberton square, at the desk upon which the will of late John Stetson, Jr., was presented for probate yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Cilley, who is a well known Boston physician, Dr. O. G. Cilley, entered the court house in Pemberton square, at the desk upon which the will of late John Stetson, Jr., was presented for probate yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Cilley, who is a well known Boston physician, Dr. O. G. Cilley, entered the court house in Pemberton square, at the desk upon which the will of late John Stetson, Jr., was presented for probate yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Cilley, who is a well known Boston physician, Dr. O. G. Cilley, entered the court house in Pemberton square, at the desk upon which the will of late John Stetson, Jr., was presented for probate yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Cilley, who is a well known Boston physician, Dr. O. G. Cilley, entered the court house in Pemberton square, at the desk upon which the will of late John Stetson, Jr., was presented for probate yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Cilley, who is a well known Boston physician, Dr. O. G. Cilley, entered the court house in Pemberton square, at the desk upon which the will of late John Stetson, Jr., was presented for probate yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Cilley, who is a well known Boston physician, Dr. O. G. Cilley, entered the court house in Pemberton square, at the desk upon which the will of late John Stetson, Jr., was presented for probate yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Cilley, who is a well known Boston physician, Dr. O. G. Cilley, entered the court house in Pemberton square, at the desk upon which the will of late John Stetson, Jr., was presented for probate yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Cilley, who is a well known Boston physician, Dr. O. G. Cilley, entered the court house in Pemberton square, at the desk upon which the will of late John Stetson, Jr., was presented for probate yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Cilley, who is a well known Boston physician, Dr. O. G. Cilley, entered the court house in Pemberton square, at the desk upon which the will of late John Stetson, Jr., was presented for probate yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Cilley, who is a well known Boston physician, Dr. O. G. Cilley, entered the court house in Pemberton square, at the desk upon which the will of late John Stetson, Jr., was presented for probate yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Cilley, who is a well known Boston physician, Dr. O. G. Cilley, entered the court house in Pemberton square, at the desk upon which the will of late John Stetson, Jr., was presented for probate yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Cilley, who is a well known Boston physician, Dr. O. G. Cilley, entered the court house in Pemberton square, at the desk upon which the will of late John Stetson, Jr., was presented for probate yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Cilley, who is a well known Boston physician, Dr. O. G. Cilley, entered the court house in Pemberton square, at the desk upon which the will of late John Stetson, Jr., was presented for probate yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Cilley, who is a well known Boston physician, Dr. O. G. Cilley, entered the court house in Pemberton square, at the desk upon which the will of late John Stetson, Jr., was presented for probate yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Cilley, who is a well known Boston physician, Dr. O. G. Cilley, entered the court house in Pemberton square, at the desk upon which the will of late John Stetson, Jr., was presented for probate yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Cilley, who is a well known Boston physician, Dr. O. G. Cilley, entered the court house in Pemberton square, at the desk upon which the will of late John Stetson, Jr., was presented for probate yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Cilley, who is a well known Boston physician, Dr. O. G. Cilley, entered the court house in Pemberton square, at the desk upon which the will of late John Stetson, Jr., was presented for probate yesterday afternoon.

ENTHUSIASTIC WELCOME HOME OF B. A. A. ATHLETES. CHAMPIONS COME HOME, CAR OVERTURNED

Victorious Boston Athletes Have Returned from Athens.

WELCOMED BY A VAST CROWD AT PROVIDENCE STATION. A Mad Rush for the Gates When the Train Rolled into the Station—"Tom" Burke Carried off on the Shoulders of a Group of Enthusiastic B. U. Men—Laurel-Wreath Winners Cheered by Thousands.

In olden times it was the proper thing to tear down the walls of the city when the Greek athletes returned to Athens after the triumphs of the Olympic games.

While Boston has no walls to guard, the crowd of 3000 enthusiasts who assembled in the Providence station last evening to welcome home the B. A. A. team of athletes came near providing a parallel to the ancient Greek custom by tearing away the gates in the depot.

The reception at the club was of an entirely informal nature, but it was doubtless the most cordial and most enjoyable that the athletes have ever enjoyed.

For fully an hour previous to the arrival of the train the crowd made merry in the depot. While there was a good attendance of B. A. A. "rooters" and other organizations connected in one way or another with the athletes, the bulk of the crowd was made up of interested Bostonians who felt that they had a personal pride in the athletes.

It was a hearty Boston greeting, such as Boston alone can give, and the scene will long be remembered by those who witnessed it. In proportion to the number present the cheering far outlasted that of a Harvard-Yale football game, and every man yelled until hoarse.

Another band of B. A. A. enthusiasts, known as the swimming club, were yelling all by themselves. The "swimmers" were Ned Atherton, T. F. Baxter, J. C. Hecht, Jack Sargent, Jim Daggett, Jack Crooks and Jack Burns.

A delegation from Boston University, headed by E. A. Perkins, vied with the Elite Club of Boston College in cheering Tom Burke. With this crowd of entertainers there was no lack of excitement while waiting for the train.

Shortly after 9 o'clock the New York express came into the station, and as the gates were opened the crowd formed itself into an immense turtle-back, which hit the fence guarding the train shed with tremendous force.

The story of the athletes' doings while abroad was told in The Boston Herald yesterday morning. The Herald was the only paper that had correct interviews with the men in New York. The Herald's great advantage in this respect was that it had the boys on their arrival in this city, and the following party went to Providence to meet the athletes.

There are chairs for all purposes—for beauty, for convenience, for comfort, for economy, for saving of space. This new design of rocker combines in one pattern almost all of these essentials.

The engraving fails to convey any idea of its shape. The seat is deep and the back is tall; the side frames are considerably longer than the height of the back, which makes the chair long and flat upon the floor. Height is an inconsiderable factor compared to depth.

It is built of solid red oak, with the fashionable Malachite finish, now so much in demand. The back and side frames are richly carved. The lions' heads on the arms are in full relief.

Get the effect of depth by realizing that sitting in the natural position, with extended arms, it would be impossible to reach the carved heads on the corners. The extra length of the rockers gives a very easy, slow motion.

Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is the best in fact the one true. Hood's Pills are not a medicine. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a blood purifier.

NEWSEUM. Newseum Collection